'Ness's Nest' Wins Carnival Trophies For Three Events

Kappa Sigma social fraternity, Delta Gamma social sorority, and Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity won all the trophies awarded for the Greek Week Carnival Friday night with their booth. "Ness's Nest."

The theme of the prize-winning booth was based on the 1920s. The booth featured a combined combo, Charleston dancers, and such potent drinks as Colonel Cobb Cocktails and Taylor Tonics.

Donald B. Camp, Kappa Sigma fraternity, was chosen the best barker. The trophy for the most ticket sales went to Kappa Sigma, Delta Gamma, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Many of the other carnival games carried out the communism theme of Greek Week with booths illustrating the Siberian Salt mines and the smashing of communism with its own hammer.

One of the most frequented booths was the Sigma Chi and Alpha Chi Omega entry. The booth offered the participants a chance to knock a person into a cold tub of water by throwing a baseball at a trigger target. Alpha Delta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, and Sigma Phi Epsilon offered a somewhat similar game.

The awards were presented at the Greek Week dance Saturday during the intermission.

Automobile Registry Expected To Increase As Year Progresses

This year, 24.2 per cent (1,653 out of 6,833) of the students on campus have automobiles registered with the University police. Last year, 42.6 per cent (2,652 out of 6,229) of the students had automobiles registered with the police department.

The number of students registering automobiles with the University is expected to increase as the year progresses.

Each week several student drivers appear before Student Court because of violating traffic regulations. The majority of these violations occur when students park over the allotted time limit in metered parking areas. Many students are also fined for parking in restricted areas.

According to University police officials, many students appear to be confused about the restricted parking areas in Lot No. 1. The areas in front of Memorial Hall and directly across from the old Sigma Chi house are reserved for head residents and for faculty parking.

A new parking lot which will accommodate 120 automobiles is being constructed at the end of the new recreational area.

DAD'S DAY TICKETS

General admission tickets for this Saturday's game with West Texas are on sale at the Athletic Ticket office in the main lobby of Memorial Hall.

New 3-Way Stop Signs Erected

To ease the traffic confusion around the construction area of the new administration bldg., a three-way stop for automobiles soon will be enforced at the intersection of Court and Thurstin.

F. Eugene Beatty, director of buildings and facilities, said that the stop signs should lessen the congestion of traffic in front of the construction area, and provide more safety for the construction workers.

Mr. Beatty said that caution signs also will be erected on Thurstin Street to warn drivers of the construction area and that equipment may be in the process of being moved across the street.

Crosswalks are being made on Thurstin Street between each caution sign and stop sign. Pedestrians are asked for their own safety to cross at the cross walks instead of at the busy intersection.

Women's Dorms Open Earlier

Doors of women's residence halls now will open at 6:30 instead of 6:45 a.m. according to the Legislative Board of the Association of Women Students.

The 6:45 a.m. opening hour has been a problem in the past for women wishing to attend early mass, and pledge-prankers who have had difficulties when setting out on their various expeditions in the early morning hours.

Civil Service Exams Here Next Semester

Federal Service Entrance Examinations will be given on campus for the first time Feb. 10 and April 14. In previous years, the tests were given at Civil Service examination points throughout the nation.

Placement Counselor Chester C. Arnold said, "These on-campus tests benefit the students because they eliminate the need for travel and save time and money."

Students interested in these tests or any of the entrance examinations given at established Civil Service testing points should apply at the Placement Office, 315B Administration Bldg.

Harshman, Bachman, Conklin Speak At Dorm Dedication

"Dr. Harshman, I present you the keys to this building and I trust the building and its operation in your care from now on," said Alva W. Bachman, Secretary of the Board of Trustees, at the dedication of Conklin Quadrangle Saturday morning.

After accepting the building on behalf of the University, President Ralph G. Harshman gave a brief description of the facilities of the new housing center. He described the facilities as "a substantial addition to the housing facilities of the University." The building is a $2½ million structure and houses 704 students. The Quadrangle is divided into three sections, Conklin Hall (north end), Conklin Row East, and Conklin Row West. Conklin Hall houses 320 upper-class men and Conklin Row East and Conklin Row West will each hold four fraternities with 48 men.

With this introduction President Harshman gave the dedicatory speech. "On July 22, 1961, the Board of Trustees decreed that these buildings and this court be named in honor of a man who has given much of himself in his work with the students and for the students.

"By action of the Board of Trustees of Bowling Green State University, this men's residence center shall be known as the Conklin Quadrangle; the north building shall be known as Conklin Hall; the east building shall be known as Conklin Row East; and the west building shall be known as Conklin Row West."

President Emeritus Frank J. Prout followed Dr. Harshman's words with an introductory speech about the man to whom the building was dedicated, Arch B. Conklin, Dean Emeritus of Students.

In 1939, at the invitation of Dr. Prout, Dean Conklin came to the campus as dean of students where he set up the administrative area now known as Student Personnel.

In taking over as adviser to the University's Inter-fraternity Council in 1940, Dean Conklin guided the fraternity system from a loosely-knit group of three locals to one which listed 12 national and two local chapters among its membership when he relinquished the advisership in 1955.

Dean Conklin followed Dr. Prout with his response. He credited the fraternity system as a great guiding influence to the men and women who were members. "I have seen young men and women come to this campus lost, bewildered, and not exactly certain what they wanted to do. And I saw them, year after year, grow in confidence and ability to lead—mainly because of the Inter-fraternity system."

Following the dedicatory ceremonies, open house was observed in Conklin Hall, Conklin Row East, and Conklin Row West.

9-Man Committee Appointed To Study Brogan, Young Cases

President Ralph G. Harshman has announced the formation of a nine-man committee to study the cases of Dr. Howard O. Brogan, professor of English, and Dr. Charles W. Young, professor of education.

The announcement followed the committee meeting of the Board of Trustees Oct. 23.

The newly appointed committee will make recommendations to Dr. Harshman concerning the disposition of these cases.

Natatorium Revises Filtering System, Treatment, Rates

New rates and new filtering and treatment systems have been added to the Natatorium this year.

The new students' rate, previously 35 cents, is 25 cents per person. The faculty and University employees' rate, which was 50 cents last year, is 35 cents per person.

The new price includes the use of towel, lock, and locker.

Guests of University students pay the student rate.

An $8,000 filtering system and a bromine treatment system have been added to make the water clearer. In previous years chlorine was used to treat the water.

Hours for recreational swimming are 7 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday and Friday; 8 to 9:30 p.m., Thursday, and 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Former Dean Of Students Serves As Acting President At Wesleyan

Wagner Chorale Performs Thursday

The Roger Wagner Chorale will be featured in the second Artist Series program at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the ballroom.

The chorale, conducted by its French-born founder, is comprised of 24 voices, divided equally among men and women. The group has toured widely in North and South America and in Europe.

The Roger Wagner Chorale made its professional debut in 1947, presenting a distinguished series of choral concerts in downtown Los Angeles for several years.

By 1949, the Chorale was so well established that it became Alfred Wallenstein's permanent chorus during his tenure with the Los Angeles Philharmonic. That same year it began its annual summer concerts at the Hollywood Bowl. In its Bowl appearances, it has performed pieces ranging from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" under Van Beinum, Orff's "Carmina Burana" under Stokowski, and Verdi's "Requiem" under Ormandy to such programs as "Salute to Disney," "Rogers and Hammerstein Night" and "Gershwin Night."

In 1953, the Chorale was invited to appear in London during Queen Elizabeth's Coronation Season. The group sang in London's Royal Festival Hall, at Paris' Salle Gaveau and in both Amsterdam and The Hague. It was also chosen by the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations to tour 10 Latin American countries last year.

The group also has achieved distinction through records, television, and broadcasts on the B.B.C., Radio Paris, and the Dutch radio.

Roger Wagner is recognized as a prominent authority on religious music of the Medieval and Renaissance periods and was awarded a doctor of music degree from the University of Montreal for his thesis on the Masses of Josquin de Pres.

He has also distinguished himself as a lecturer on choral music and choral singing, presiding over seminars in advanced choral conducting at the University of California where he is director of music.

The Chorale will sing selections from the Renaissance, Classic Romantic, Modern, and French Impressionist Periods. It also will sing English and American folk songs, French folk songs, and Negro spirituals.

Tickets now are on sale in the lobby of the Union. Student tickets are 25 cents. Reserved tickets are $3, and general reserved seat tickets are $2.

Russia Explodes Bomb; U.S. Ahead In Race

WASHINGTON—The Atomic Energy Commission has confirmed that Russia exploded a nuclear bomb early Monday morning.

However, Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg of the Atomic Energy Commission AEC believes the United States is still ahead of Russia in atomic weapons stockpiles and knowhow.

Seaborg's statement came shortly after the AEC announced the United States had set off another fallout-free nuclear device underground in Nevada.

Coffee Hours

Acting, Plays, IBMs Discussed During Weekly Lecture Series

The varying styles of acting, a comparison of American and European playwrights, and an analysis of IBM history and capabilities were discussed at Matinee, Books and Coffee, and Cobus Hour last week.

An analysis of nineteenth century acting, conducted by Dr. Lael J. Woodbury, was the topic of the Oct. 24 meeting of Matinee.

Dr. Woodbury, discussing the five periods of acting in the nineteenth century, supplemented his talk with slides illustrating the different styles.

In the earliest period, the Classic Period, long speeches, poetry, and nobility were prevalent. The hero represented the best to be found in man. Actors stood erect and graceful. They personified physical beauty. "Oedipus Rex" is considered the perfect classic play.

Romantic Period actors were the exact opposite of their predecessors, being specialists in dying. Heroes were raspy, guttural-voiced, five-foot characters. Most were villains. The style was intense and emotional. The characters of Edgar Allan Poe were typical of this period.

The American Period, born with Jeffersonian Democracy, represented one man against many. The success story of the small-time newspaper boy who makes good is typical. Some scholars feel that this image was the one contribution American actors made to the theater.

The Neo-Romantic Period, showed the rise of restrained romanticism and was characterized by a melancholy air, dark colors, and a broadening of tragedies. At this time a noted premium was put on reality, and actors played roles similar to life situations.

The last period is that of Realism. It began with the Civil War, when more emphasis was placed on an interpretation of the word through external psychology. The period deals with real life, emotion, and setting. Possibly, members agreed, moderns have gone too far in emphasizing human behavior, and have forgotten human feeling as seen in some realism.

The purpose of this discussion was to show members the great contrast between the early 1800s, when a premium was placed on reason, and the early 1900s, when plays such as "Hedda Gabler" showed man's behavior patterns.

Today's Matinee will be a discussion and review of "An Italian Straw Hat."

Books and Coffee

"Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad"; this play by Arthur Kopit and three other plays, one by an American and two by European playwrights, were acted out in part at Books and Coffee Thursday.

The other plays, "The Zoo Story," by Edward Albee, "The Bald Soprano," by Eugene Ionesco, and "Waiting for Godot," by Samuel Beckett, are relatively new types of plays (20 or 30 years old) that come from experimental theater.

The works of Albee and Kopit, the American playwrights, were compared with the works of Ionesco and Beckett, two European playwrights.

"European theatrical tradition is more experimental due to various factors while young American playwrights are spending a great deal of time educating their audiences," said George C. McDade, intern instructor in speech.

Educating the audience means giving the play as it is written, word for word, without cutting out words or phrases that might offend the audience.

Several professors and instructors present said that they thought the educating of audiences should begin in colleges and universities.

Mr. McDade and Ronald G. Sherer, graduate assistant in English, did the acting.

At 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the Union, "Picasso's Career" will be discussed at Books and Coffee.

Cobus

Approximately 80 students and faculty members were present at Cobus Wednesday when D. W. Tate of the Midwestern Regional Office, IBM Data Processing Division, Chicago, Ill., spoke on "Case Study: How IBM Develops the College Graduate."

In his talk Mr. Tate gave a

Solve Money Problems At Financial Aid Office

Although the Financial Aid Office seldom has announcements of interest to the entire student body, it is always open to the student with a special problem.

Grades and money are the two biggest problems that a University student must cope with. If the student has the ability to make good grades, the Financial Aid Office would like to assist him financially.

The student who will be unable to complete his college education without monetary assistance will find that the Financial Aid Office offers grants-in-aid, loans, and information on part-time employment.

This assistance is limited, however, just as the amount of money and the number of jobs available are limited. For this reason, Robert E. McKay, student financial aid counselor, urges students to make an appointment for an interview as soon as they foresee a brief history of IBM, and told about some of the capabilities of the machines which his company manufactures. He also discussed what IBM looked for in a college graduate before hiring him.

When Cobus meets at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Union, the featured speaker will be Rudolph Huat, vice-president of the National Bank of Toledo. He will speak on "Changing Trends in World Trade."

financial difficulty.

Such appointments can be made in the Financial Aid Office, 211 Administration Bldg.

In this same office, the interested student will find information posted on everything from part-time jobs to adult evening classes. This billboard is covered with announcements right now and there are piles of pamphlets in the waiting room.

So rather than putting the "touch" on your roommates and losing some good friends, why not pay the Financial Aid Office a visit?

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

"It is not too early to apply for Christmas vacation jobs," said Robert E. McKay, financial aid counselor. The Student Financial Aid Office has some application cards for post office jobs. The student can pick up applications for his home community post office. There are a few Christmas jobs in the Bowling Green area, but these jobs are usually filled by local people.

American Football Confusing But Fun For Norwegian Coed

By Anne Baggethun

(Ed. Note: The writer is a foreign exchange student from Norway.)

There are many strange things that a foreigner has to get used to when coming to the United States for the first time, but one of the strangest is definitely American football. Well, FOOTBALL? Really is played with the hands, arms, head, and just about every other part of the body!

In our familiar soccer you would get penalized for as much as touching the ball with your hand.

When the players come out on the field at my first college football game, I felt very much like a character in Andy Griffith's delightful recording "What it was, was football."

Helmets, pads on shoulders and knees—I was thoroughly confused. However, that was only the beginning of my confusion. As the game progressed, I got to understand a few simple things about it.

I comprehended that one team wanted to get to one goal with the ball and that the other team tried desperately to stop them.

Suddenly one player would tear loose from the group and run off with the ball. Usually he did not get very far, because before long he would have at least ten players from the other team on top of him, trying to take the ball away. The poor fellow didn't have a chance! It was, and still is, a great puzzle to me why more players do not get hurt in these games.

I have seen a few games since then, and though I still understand very little of what is going on, every game is a new and wonderful experience to me.

The flags in contrast to the blue fall sky, the band uniforms moving across the green field, yelling students, cheerleaders, and Freddy Falcon—I feel the same thrills every time I enter the stands. Touchdowns, and "first down—three to go" do not mean much to me—I just get up every time somebody else gets up and yell with them and have a wonderful time.

By now somebody will probably say: "Why doesn't she get a book on football and try to learn a little bit about it?"

I wouldn't think of it. That would spoil the whole thing!

I like to be kept in suspense as to when the people will get up and scream next. I do not want to get involved in technicalities. As long as I can feel that special excitement when it is time for the kick-off, I am happy.

American football games puzzle me and leave me thoroughly confused—but I love them!

Workmen Raze Smoke Stack

Perhaps many students living on and off campus have noticed something missing. This is the smoke stack, which was located on the right side of Commons, across from the football stadium.

At 2:30 p.m. Wednesday the 16-year-old, 60-foot high, 5 1/2 ton, smoke stack fell to the ground, and was taken to the scrap pile.

For the past three years many students have looked at the smoke stack in utter wonder asking, "How does it remain standing?" Students made a constant practice of walking a wide path around it, for fear that it might fall.

A large hole at the top of the smoke stack caused by heat and oxidation made the stack unsafe, which is the major reason it was torn down. Once before the top section had been cut off for this same reason, but due to the condition of the metal it could not be done again.

The maintenance crew employed by the University removed the smoke stack. This was done by cutting the base of the stack with a blow torch, leaving one foot of uncut metal. This enabled the maintenance crew to control the fall of the stack.

The smoke stack will not be replaced since Commons will be razed within the next two years. An old landmark such as this will probably never be seen on campus again.

Letter To The Editor

To the Staff:

In reply to your open letter to us in the Homecoming issue of the B-G News, we have answered a couple of your questions.

We usually spend about two or three hours each time that we go out. This includes thinking up slogans, painting signs, and taping the signs on various buildings around the campus. We are of course dressed in our SICSIC uniforms while going through these various activities so as to remain anonymous to anyone outside of our organization.

Yes, we have had a nearly-geared incident recently. This was last semester on a nice spring night. Several fellows assembled around Commons and when we came out, they made a dash for us, but the Campus Cops also came running (they just happened to be around), and intercepted these 20 or 30 eager beavers. This was just one of several narrow escapes which SICSIC has had over the last 10 or 12 years.

As to where we get all our energy to go out and put up signs, regardless of the weather, this is the result of the tradition which has been built up with the SICSIC organization, to promote school spirit consistently throughout the school year.

BG Fans Stunned Over Upset; Cal Poly Tragedy A Year Ago

By Dave Young

"The important thing . . . is not winning, but taking part; the essential thing in life is not conquering, but fighting well." This was the belief of Baron Pierre de Coubertin, a French educator who played a major role in the revival of the Olympic Games. And his belief could very well describe the atmosphere following Miami's stunning upset over Bowling Green Saturday.

When the final gun sounded and the scoreboard registered a 7-6 win for Miami, many of the 9,500 fans stood stunned, hardly believing that the Falcons had just been defeated. The feeling of the crowd was not one of despondence, but that of having witnessed a tremendous football game filled with intense desire by both teams.

Young

Both teams wanted to win the game and both teams gave all they had. "The kids played their hearts out," said Doyt Perry, and Miami coach John Pont remarked, "The boys really wanted to win this one."

Perry was not too surprised with the outcome of the game because he "expected the game would be close."

"They had been fumbling a lot," remarked Perry, "and today they made just one." Miami had lost the ball 12 times on fumbles in its first six games. Pont remarked, "All season long I have lived in the shadow of fear of the fumbles. Our fumbles caused us to lose to Western Michigan and Ohio U. and so naturally I was fearful today."

The Redskins' only fumble of the game could have been a costly one for them. On a punt return Miami's Dave Bernard fumbled the ball at midfield. Bowling Green's left tackle Bob Reynolds fell on the ball, but it scooted away from him and was recovered by Miami's Gerald Myers on the BG 44. It was just several plays later that Miami scored its winning touchdown.

The Falcons outplayed Miami in every department but scoring. Bowling Green had 13 first downs to eight for Miami. In rushing, the Falcons gained 128 yards to 105 for the Redskins. The Falcons completed six of 16 passes for 78 yards, while Miami connected on two of four passes for only 17 yards.

Both coaches had praise for their defense. Perry remarked, "We did a fine job of containing their offense." The Falcons, who were first in the Mid-American Conference on defense with a 180-yard average, held Miami to a net total of 122 yards.

Pont was pleased with his defense too. "I think it was our defense that won the game for us," he remarked. Miami held Bowling Green to 206 yards. Prior to the game, the Falcons had been averaging 322 yards in conference games.

Bowling Green's loss has thrown the MAC championship into a three-team race. The Falcons still are on top with a 4-1 MAC record, while Western Michigan is second with a 3-1 mark, and Ohio U. third with a 2-1 record.

The conference champion will earn the right to appear in the Aviation Bowl on Dec. 9 at Dayton. If Bowling Green wins, the runner-up will represent the MAC because the Falcons are scheduled to play in the Mercy Bowl in Los Angeles on Thanksgiving Day.

It was just a year ago Sunday that the Cal Poly tragedy occurred. Cal Poly had just finished playing the Falcons and were returning home when its chartered plane crashed at Toledo's Express Airport killing 22 and injuring 26 persons. On Thanksgiving the Mercy Bowl will be played to raise money to help the survivors.

In the Home Section of The Toledo Sunday Blade, a full page is devoted to recalling the air tragedy. The story, written by Don Wolfe, former Blade sports editor and now assistant managing editor, recalls the incidents that occurred that foggy night.

A complete roundup of the Cal Poly tragedy and the events that have led to the Mercy Bowl will appear in the Nov. 21 issue of the NEWS. Following Thanksgiving vacation, a special Mercy Bowl edition of the NEWS will be published on Dec. 1.

Frosh Blank TU 31-0; Robinson Tallies 3 TD's

Coach Dick Young's freshman footballers took another step toward an undefeated season as the yearlings blanked Toledo's frosh 31-0 Friday in the University Stadium.

Bowling Green completely dominated the game, gaining 386 yards rushing and 56 yards passing for a net total of 442 yards. Toledo's total offense was 176 yards.

Once again "sound" football paid off for Bowling Green. The yearlings lost only one fumble and had no passes intercepted. The Rockets lost two fumbles which led to Bowling Green scores and had two passes intercepted.

Fullback Lynn Robinson was the leading scorer for the yearlings as he ran for three touchdowns. He gained 64 yards in 16 carries, with most of his yardage coming on short plunges up the middle.

Halfback Jay Cunningham was the leading rusher as he ripped off 15 yards in 17 carries, including a 48-yard touchdown dash.

Tony Trent, the yearling's other starting halfback, was the second top ground gainer with 92 yards in 15 tries.

Gary Weaver, another halfback, scored Bowling Green's fifth touchdown on a 12-yard scamper.

The yearlings' record now stands at 3-0 with one game remaining this Friday against Western Michigan's frosh at 3 p.m.

Toledo Stages Rally To Defeat Kent State; WM Beats Marshall

Western Michigan had little difficulty in defeating hapless Marshall 20-0. Quarterback Ed Chlebek led the Broncos to their third conference win against one loss by completing 11 of 14 passes, including one touchdown.

Trailing 6-3 at halftime, the Toledo Rockets erupted for 14 points in each of the remaining two quarters to overcome Kent State 31-22.

Rocket fullback Frank Baker gained an even 100 yards to claim top ground-gainer laurels.

In non-conference action, Ohio University came from behind in the final second of play when Jim McKee kicked a 48-yard field goal to edge Delaware 17-16.

The Bobcats tallied all 17 points in the final period to register their fourth win in six games.

Students not holding coupon books may purchase football tickets on the day before the game only.

WOMEN'S FIELD hockey team rallied to defeat Eastern Michigan 5-1 Saturday. Jan Dickson led Bowling Green with three goals.

Hockey Team Wins 5-1

Bowling Green's women's field hockey team remained undefeated Saturday by beating a stubborn Eastern Michigan team. The final score was 5-1, but the teams were more evenly matched than the score indicates.

Bowling Green did just the right things at the right time to roll up its biggest score in years. The halfbacks and fullbacks did their job of stalling the opponent's attack, while goalie Jane Colgrove made several saves.

Eastern Michigan scored the first goal of the game, but halfback Carol Lenz knotted the score with a drive from the edge of the striking circle. Bowling Green led at the half, 2-1, as Jan Dickson pushed in the first of her three goals of the game.

Miss Dickson started the scoring in the second half with a hard drive into the corner of the goal cage. Right wing Karen Nelson made the score 4-1 by stopping a rebounding ball and pushing it past the goalie. Miss Dickson ended the scoring by scoring a rebound into the cage.

The team's record is now two wins and one tie. Bowling Green's last home game will be with the University of Michigan Saturday, at 9:30 a.m.

Splashers Defeat Miami 64-23; Dow Sets Intercollegiate Record

In the second swim meet of the season, the Splashers again gained victory as the team defeated Miami 64-23.

Two swimming records were set as a result of the meet held Saturday in the Natatorium. Patricia Dow led the 200-yard medley relay in which a new Splashers' time of 2:21.2 was recorded. Karen Murphy, Dorothy Sullivan, and Barbara Burkhardt swam in the relay.

Miss Dow also set a women's intercollegiate record in the 50-yard backstroke with a time of :35.6. Other swimmers who placed in the event were the following: 2—Joyce Walker, BG; 3—Charon Brummond, Miami.

Results of other events were as follows:

50-yard freestyle: 1—Marjorie Harpham, BG; 2—Jo Sauer, BG; 3—Pat Underhill, Miami. Time :30.3.

100-yard individual medley: 1—Dorothy Sullivan, BG; 2—Sheri McMaken, Miami; 3—Karen Murphy, BG. Time 1:23.8.

100-yard freestyle: 1—Lucy Fletcher, Miami; 2—Barbara Burkhardt, BG; 3—Jo Sauer, BG. Time 1:07.9.

50-yard butterfly: 1—Edwina Fink, BG; 2—Marjorie Harpham, BG; 3—Pat Underhill, Miami. Time :37.7.

Harriers Split 2-1 In Dual Meets; Binkley Finishes 1st

Barry Binkley beat 'em all! While his teammates aided him in winning two of three dual meets against Kent and Toledo, the frisky sophomore outsmarted and outran six of the Ohio State runners to take individual scoring honors Saturday.

Binkley tucked himself in behind the Ohio Stater's for well over three miles on the wind blown BG course. Then with less than a half mile to go, then he darted out of the pack and won going away.

The harriers lost to Ohio State 39-20, but whipped Toledo 19-43, and downed Kent, 22-33, to give them a 6-3 record for the season.

Binkley's time for the four miles was 21:44. Behind him, and finishing 10th was Bob Frost, with Joe Muscarella, Lloyd Kime, and John Schengilli rounding out the Falcons' attack.

In the freshman meet, Dick Elsassner opened up a large lead in the final half mile to win easily against the Kent and TU freshmen. The freshmen lost to Kent 22-33, but downed TU, 19-38.

Elsasser, running four miles for only the second time in his career, finished with a time of 22:15, 31 seconds off Binkley's time.

22:53, and Vince Rehfield at 23:08. Behind him was Dale Cordova at :08. Bill Flinn, and Tom LeSalle, were fourth and fifth for the yearlings.

Both the varsity and freshman will be entered at the MAC, Saturday at Kent. The freshman meet, will not count, however, as only a mythical championship will be won.

Toe Of Miami's Jencks Gives Falcons 1st Loss

The toe of Miami's end Bob Jencks provided the margin of victory as the Redskins handed Bowling Green its first defeat of the season, 7-6, before 9,500 fans in the University Stadium Saturday.

With 8:23 remaining in the game, Jencks split the uprights with his PAT to send the Redskins into the lead. Miami tied the score on a seven-yard end sweep by Larry Miller.

The first half of the game was a defensive struggle with neither team able to put together a scoring drive.

It was not until early in the third quarter that Bowling Green was able to launch its only sustained drive of the day. The Falcons marched 93 yards in 18 plays with a 23-yard pass play climaxing the drive. Quarterback Jim Potts hit left halfback Roger Reynolds for the touchdown.

to score the tying touchdown. On the kickoff following the TD, Reynolds grabbed the ball in the end zone and raced 67 yards along the sidelines before he was brought down on the Miami 34. Against Kent, Reynolds had returned a kickoff 93 yards for a touchdown and he was just one defender away from repeating against Miami.

The Falcons moved the ball to the 27, but after two incomplete passes and a one-yard loss, they were forced with a field goal situation. Elsea attempted the 34-yard kick, but the ball fell short and Miami took over.

Earlier in the game, Jencks attempted two field goals. The first, a 36-yard kick, hit the right side of the goal post and bounced back. His second attempt into the strong wind, sailed far to the right.

had a one-man conference about your future lately?

You:

Why the gold bars?

Future You:

You're needed . . . just as your father and grandfather were. It's an obligation that a lot of qualified college men have to meet. If we don't . . .

You:

All right. But what can I do for the Air Force?

Future You:

The Air Force needs college trained men and women as officers. This is caused by the rapidly advancing technology that goes with hypersonic air and space flight. Your four years of college have equipped you to handle complex jobs.

You:

Say I was interested . . . how can I get to be an officer?

Future You:

You know about Air Force ROTC and the Air Force Academy. Then there's the navigator training program. You've probably heard about Officer Training School . . . where the Air Force takes certain college graduates, both men and women, and commissions them after three months of training.

You:

Starting salary is important. What about that?

Future You:

Add it up. Base pay, tax-free allowances, free medical and dental care, retirement provision, perhaps flight pay. You don't have to be an eco major to see it adds up to an attractive package.

You:

I've been thinking about getting my Master's.

Future You:

As an officer you can apply for the Air Force Institute of Technology. At no cost, and while on active duty some officers may even win their Ph.D. degrees.

You:

Tell me more.

That's the job of your local Air Force Recruiter. Or write to Officer Career Information, Dept. SC110, Box 7608, Washington 4, D.C., if you want further information about the navigator training or Officer Training School programs.

Israelite Gives Speech At Local UN Dinner

"Many people question 'Is it better to be a Red or dead?'—Well, I want to be alive and free," said Michael Goldway, a citizen of Israel and native of Poland, at the annual International Dinner Thursday night at the Trinity Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The dinner was sponsored by the United Christian Fellowship, Lutheran Student Association, and World Student Association in observance of United Nations week.

Mr. Goldway spoke on Israel, Africa, and the United Nations. He began with the idea that there is a tremendous cleavage between the communist world and the western world.

He wondered if people in pursuit of self-preservation couldn't find a way of free give and take—where all people can sit down and discuss problems. He stressed that it may mean giving up a part of sovereignty for the countries of the world.

Commenting on Israel, he said that the Arab states don't like Israel because it is the only democratic country in that area and doesn't set a good example.

"I believe a lot has been achieved in the 14 years since we gained our independence," he said.

Drawing upon observations from his recent trip to Africa, Mr. Goldway said the major effort will have to be in education and industry. Advice will have to be sought—people from the free world will have to go there, and people from Africa will have to come to the U.S. to study.

Mr. Goldway is adviser to the Minister of Commerce and Industry in Israel, and has been studying and visiting in the United States for five weeks. He is staying in Chicago at the present time and will go to Los Angeles and Texas before returning to Israel.

AFROTC Cadets Visit Air Base

Maj. Warren E. Peters, assistant professor of air science, and Dr. William E. Harrington, assistant dean of the College of Education, escorted 35 Air Force ROTC cadets on an inspection tour of Wright-Patterson Air Force Base Wednesday and Thursday.

Arriving at Dayton in the evening, the group dined in the Officers' Club and was entertained by a combo of Airmen musicians.

During the tour, the group visited the Air Force Museum and saw airplane displays which included models of the Wright Brothers' "Kitty Hawk Special" and a modern B-58 bomber.

On the flight line the group saw combat ready aircraft and pilots practicing emergency take-offs and flight maneuvers. The cadets also saw part of the Strategic Air Command operations and the B-52 bomber in action.

An interesting point of the tour was the SAC dog compound. The German Shepherd police dogs kept there are trained to kill and are used to guard the aircraft at night.

Touring the Wright field the cadets saw the testing procedures of experimental aircraft. The aircraft were being tested for safety and possible modifications.

A briefing on the requirements for becoming an Air Force officer completed the tour of the base. The group was told of the financial and educational opportunities available to Air Force officers.

Another trip has been planned for Selfridge Air Force Base near Detroit. No date has been set for the trip.
